

The FCC should not restrict people's right to fair use. If the media companies hate fair use so much, they should appeal to congress to get fair use outlawed.